4. DISTRIBUTORS

There's the right distributor for every application. We want to do everything right. So we make all distributors as well. Whether they be flush-mounted, hollow wall, surface-mounted, communication or damp area distributors. So our customers can rest assured they have the better product.

The f-tronic® GmbH

Even today, the innovations of tomorrow are electrifying.

We're impressed by installation technology that actually makes the installer's life easier. That's why we founded f-tronic® 30 years ago - and we're now Europe-wide experts in electrical installation technology.

Our own passion is for developing and producing products that impress in practice. In installation and function as well as use. We do this by developing and producing our products at our own site in Saarbrücken. Always in focus: excellent price performance relation.

Exceptionally flat company hierarchies, a high level of automation and digitized processes contribute to our high performance.

As a rapidly growing SME, our key skills are in plastic injection molding: we produce more than 250,000 pieces per day. Each year, we produce more than 30 million installation boxes and over 300,000 distributors. Over 1,100 standard products for the European electrical installation market make us a reliable full range supplier.

Alongside our growth in many European countries, we remain approachable for our installers, our customers and our partners. Thanks to our thorough focus on their needs, we ensure a full, attractive and innovative selection. We'll stun you with high stock availability and super short delivery times.

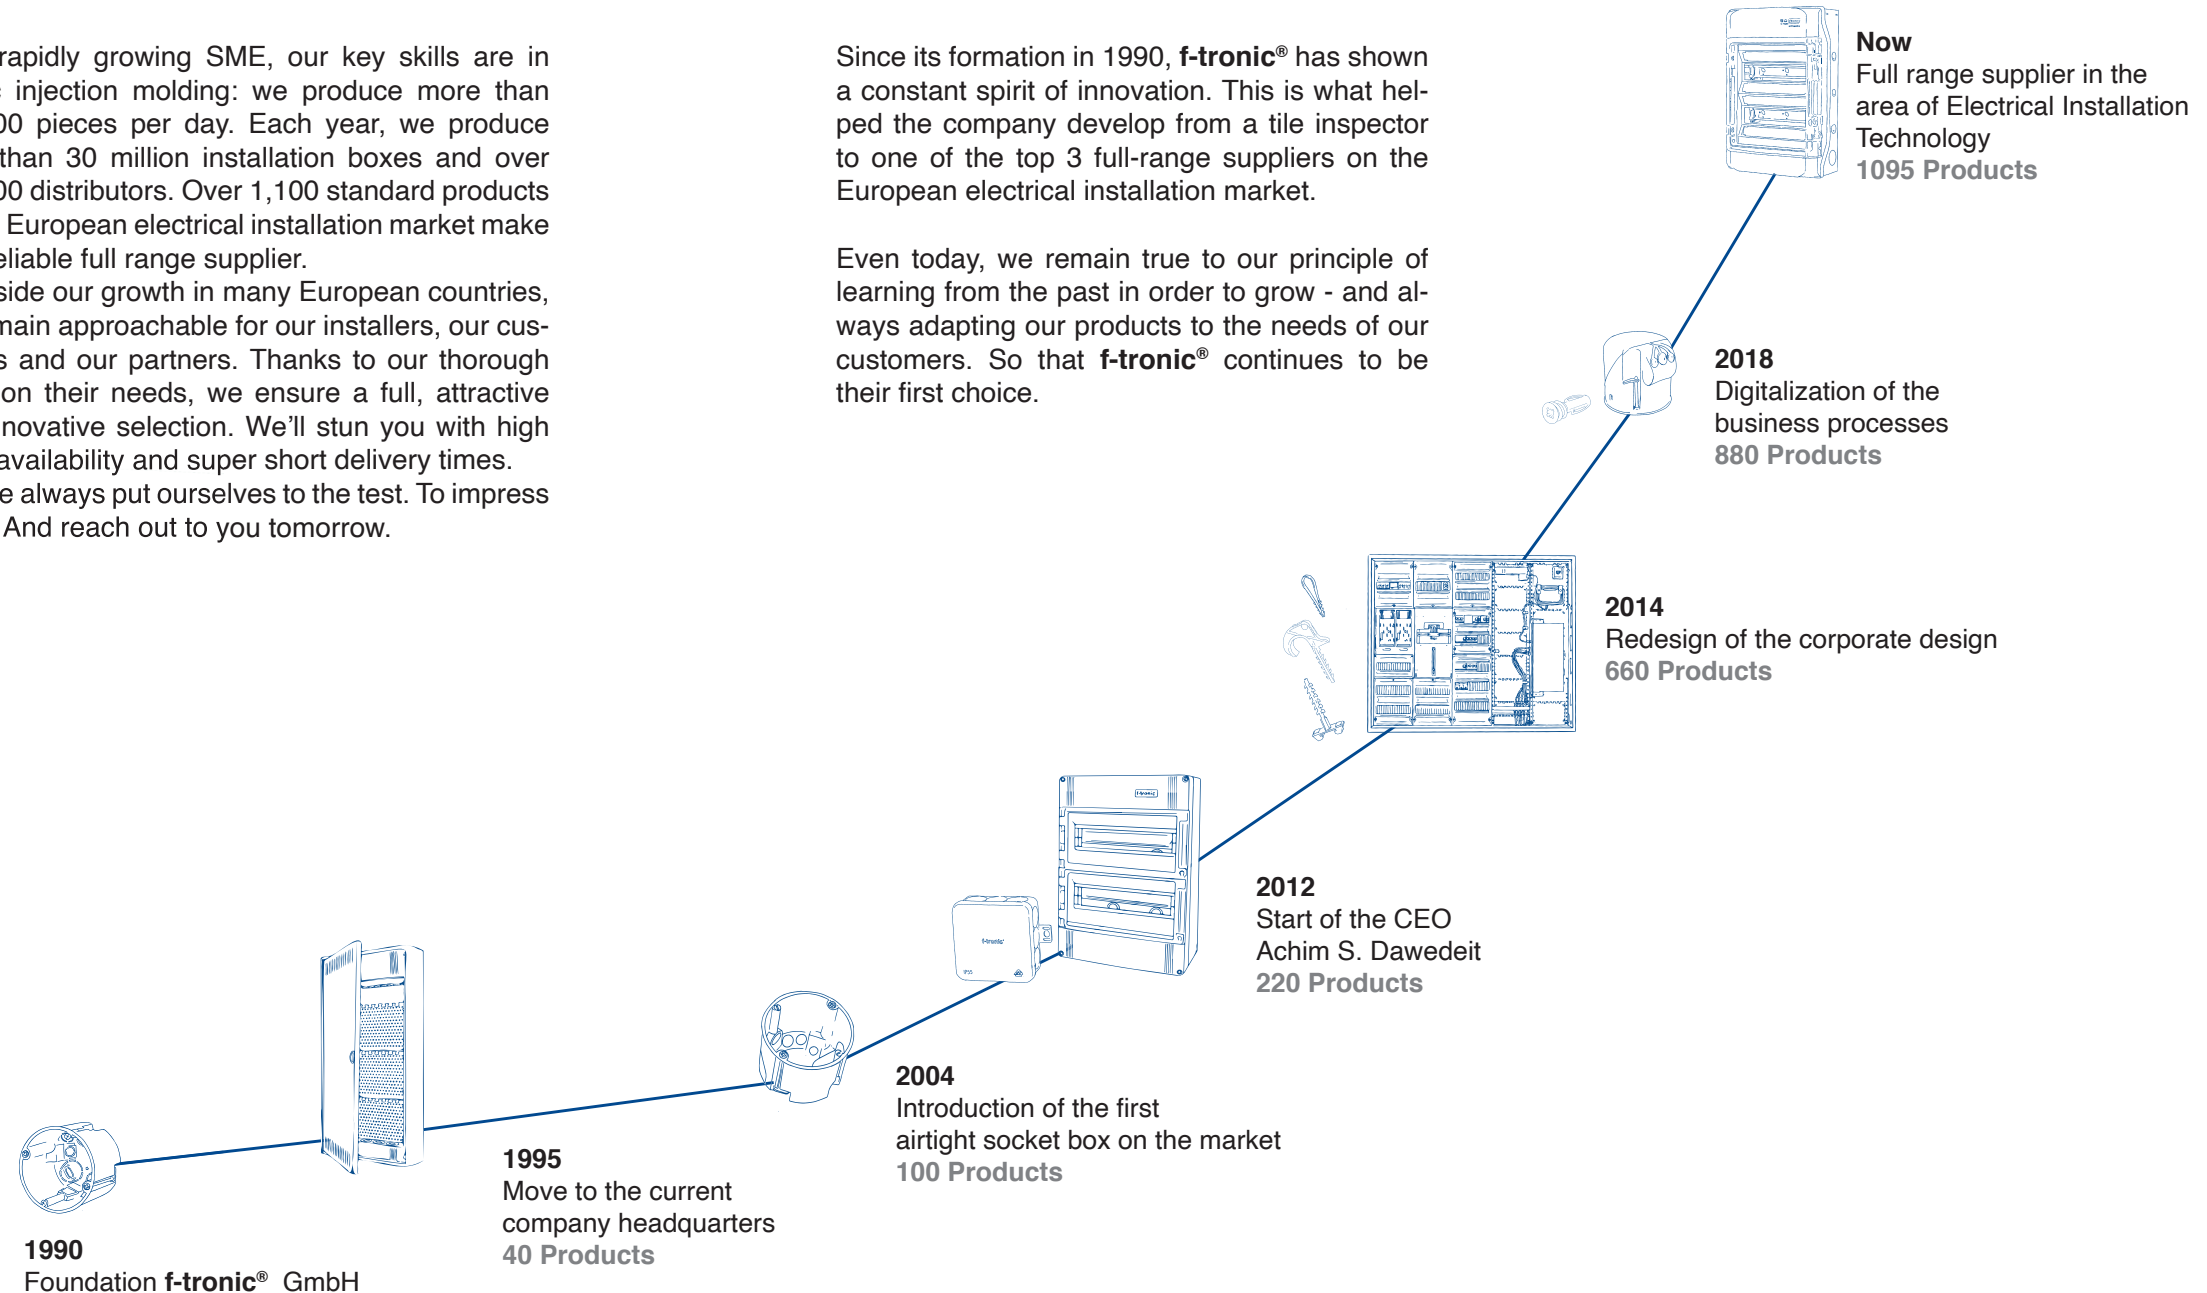

And we always put ourselves to the test. To impress today. And reach out to you tomorrow.

Company story

Everything is pointing towards growth.

Since its formation in 1990, f-tronic® has shown a constant spirit of innovation. This is what helped the company develop from a tile inspector to one of the top 3 full-range suppliers on the European electrical installation market.

Even today, we remain true to our principle of learning from the past in order to grow - and always adapting our products to the needs of our customers. So that f-tronic® continues to be their first choice.

f-tronic®

f-tronic® already had big dreams when it was founded. The takeover of Kempf in Eschringen formed the cornerstone of today's core skills in plastic injection molding. Rapid annual growth paved the way for our transformation into a full-range provider.

Constantly taking on new product lines means that f-tronic® is now one of the leading producers of electrical installation technology.

When Managing Shareholder Achim S. Dawedeit joined f-tronic®, the company had a new spring in its step. Complete with a fully new corporate design and new approaches to pricing systems alongside the stock programm.

Expanding to include a range of meter cabinets and the adaption and further development of the existing product range has let f-tronic® enjoy an established position on the market. Today, we are among the top 3 producers in the electrical installation industry.

Equal partners Straight towards success.

There are plenty of good reasons to choose f-tronic®. One reason is surely our policy of treating partners as equals, a value that is put into practice and upheld daily. An example: our customers always get the best, unbeatable purchase price. In the sense of their own attractive margins.

And value for money is spot on when it comes to sales. Customers receive products at rock bottom prices that measurably reduce their work time, simplify their job and ensure clean results.

Installers are always impressed by the perfectly high quality that makes us stand out and gives us the edge on the competition.

Thanks to the high standards of our production line in Germany, we are one of the big top 3 on the electrical installation market particularly when it comes to socket boxes, distributors and meter cabinets.

Around 150 employees guarantee that we can record an annual turnover of 30 million euros. We invest at least 8% of this turnover into new machinery and tools every year.

After around 30 years, we have achieved something great. What are we missing? You as a partner! So help us to export throughout Europe - and benefit from our incomparable offer at the same time.

Whether you're an importer, trade or industry partner, retailer or sales rep, get in touch. And look forward to a partnership among equals!

- With us, you'll earn money and electrical installers will save time - the best value for money
- Top quality - 100% made in Germany
